The annual boys basketball camp is where parents can be sure their son is getting sound instruction from familiar faces of the S.F.D.S. faculty. This camp is for individuals who want to improve their skill and understanding of the game of basketball. The camp will focus on skill development, teamwork, and offensive and defensive positions. The philosophy of the camp is one that mirrors the San Francisco Day School athletic program, where every child is challenged to improve their individual skill level. The camp is staffed by committed coaches who want to help young athletes strive to improve.
