

A NEW WAY TO EXPERIENCE NATURE IN SAN FRANCISCO!

URBIA ADVENTURE LEAGUE

www.urbikids.com

What is it? A growing community of families who love to get active outdoors and discover the unique natural history of a great city through place-based exploration! ...A new way to see and understand our city. From astounding hilltop views to close-up study of butterflies dependent on local native plants, each new park and secret place add to a repertoire of fun outing spots.

Who are URBIKIDS? They are excited to find a personalized quest packet in their mailbox each season. A colorful booklet filled with fun images, maps, rhyming clues, and sensory activities lead a team through a landscape while searching for a hidden box. Adults are engaged and impressed with content developed with the expertise of local naturalists and neighborhood organizations at each site.

How easy is it? Everything for a two hour adventure is included. Busy families appreciate the freedom of scheduling their own outings and going at their own pace. Toddlers & up have fun!

How does it work? A Family forms a team to read rhyming clues and engage in activities in a treasure hunt-style pursuit. Navigating skills bring confidence to young explorers who are rewarded with a hidden special stamp and journal.

Rewards: Kids love the quest and active exploration. Adults discover meaningful natural areas close to home. Urbanites find a deeper connection and sense of pride when they discover the natural history of San Francisco!

Membership: New members receive a Nature in the City map and are invited to events at each new site added to the adventure series. Cost is $35 yearly for four quarterly adventure packets-by-mail. For less than $10 per adventure an entire family can fill a two hour outing or enjoy repeated visits with invited friends. Subscribe via: www.urbikids.com

urbia

Who?: Co-founders Barbara Corff and Damien Raffa discovered “questing” while working in our nearby National Park. Stewardship ideals extend to all parks and healthy outdoors activity can be a fun rewarding adventure that leads to confident travels for children with growing hearts and minds.

(Definition: having to do with Urban Places)

Damien Raffa & Barbara Corff email@urbikids.com